Introductory text:

The Department of Paediatric and Adolescent Surgery at the Medical University of Graz (Austria) represents one of the largest units of its kind in the German speaking countries. We provide highly specialized medical care according to latest evidence-based pathways. Moreover the department has established two interdisciplinary, multiprofessional “centres of excellence”, which received national accreditation by the Austrian ministry of health:

Team PAeD consists of numerous specialists dedicated to Paediatric Aero-Digestive diseases including intestinal congenital anomalies of the foregut like esophageal atresia (EA-TEF), complex tracheal stenosis (TS), pulmonary malformations, congenital diaphragmatic hernia (CDH), gastric and duodenal diseases.

Team GUT consists of numerous specialists dedicated to gastrointestinal diseases, urology and tumours. This includes a special unit for the clinical care of children with short bowel syndrome (SBS) or small bowel bacterial overgrowth due to dysbiosis of the intestinal microbiome (SIBO). For patients with chronic intestinal failure (CIF) we provide vascular and gastrointestinal access, enteral and parenteral nutritional support, medical treatment and surgical reconstructive procedures.
